Answer from building management:

"It might be coming from the ships that are coming in for Sea Fair. We get complaint every year at this time. The air intake bring the fumes in. It dissipates after the ships anchor up☺ I will ask the engineer to check it out just in case" - Pam Darren – can you look into this to see if there is any remodel activity implications.

PERC – please forward this to Washington Holdings for investigation as part of the ongoing building operations.

Renee – I'm sorry, with the festivities today I'm just now getting to your message.

HI Mary Kay, just wanted to alert you that there is a fairly strong smell of kerosene on the 18th floor. Doesn't seem to be connected to anything happening on this floor. Never encountered it before.
